FOREWORD

This book is offered as an appreciation of the past year at West Virginia Wesleyan. It is an attempt to portray the sunshine and the shadows of our college life; and if it can give you an idea or a remembrance of the spirit which we have known so well, the staff will feel repaid for their labors.

AT a special meeting of the Trustees of the College, August 12th, 1915, Rev. Wallace B. Fleming, A. M. Ph. D., was elected to the presidency of the College.

Doctor Fleming was born at Cambridge, Ohio, November 22nd, 1872. He graduated at Muskingum College, New Concord, Ohio, with the A. B. degree in 1894. In 1897 he completed a theological course at the Drew Theological Seminary, receiving the B. D. degree. Later he received the M. A. and D. D. degrees from Muskingum College. His advanced postgraduate work was done at Columbia University, from which institution he received his Ph. D. degree.

He joined the Newark annual conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church in 1897, and held successful pastorates at North Paterson, N. J., Bayonne and Maplewood. During the seven and one half years of his pastorate at Maplewood the Church advanced to a place of great prominence in the conference and a $50,000 stone church was erected. In 1911 he was elected adjunct Professor of Hebrew and Greek, and Registrar at Drew Theological Seminary, Madison, N. J., from which position he came to take up his duties as President of Wesleyan College.

Dr. Fleming is proving the ideal man for Wesleyan. He is loved by the entire student body and thru his labors he is placing Wesleyan upon firm ground in every way. The school is growing extensively under his administration.

"Tommy" Haught is one of the most popular and appreciated men who ever belonged to a West Virginia Wesleyan Administration. He spent some time with us in his earlier years as a student. After leaving Wesleyan he spent some years in teaching. Before returning to us he took work at West Virginia University and Harvard.

As a teacher and Dean of the College he is doing a great work. He requires fairness and that is all. No Dean has ever been so well loved by the student body and in these few words the sentiment of everyone connected with Wesleyan is expressed: "We cannot exist without "Tommy."

History of Wesleyan

IN 1885 it was proposed to the members of the West Virginia Conference that they locate a seminary. A board of trustees was appointed and directed to receive contributions and proposals of endowment for the new school.

On August 29, 1887, the trustees purchased forty-three acres of land at Buckhannon, and proceeded with the erection of the buildings. In 1890 the school was open for the admission of students. The Rev. B. W. Hutchinson was chosen for the first president. The Ladies' Hall was built in 1895 and in 1902 the Music Hall was finished, about the same time the Presidents residence was built.

The main building was burned on February 4, 1905. The following year College Hall was completed, and a central heating plant installed.

The good work of the school soon won her many friends, and in 1912-13 it was possible for two new buildings to be erected. They were the Haymond Science Hall, the gift of Mrs. Virginia Haymond of Clarksburg, and the Gymnasium. The Gymnasium is said to be the finest in the state.

Wesleyan is still advancing. This year through the influence of our president, Dr. Fleming, the rooms in the basement of the main building have been remodelled and equipped with all the modern domestic science appliances. Owning to the generosity of the Methodist Episcopal Church of Clarksburg West Virginia, much new and valuable equipment has been secured for use in the Gymnasium.

It has been the policy of the college to make the work as thorough as possible, and only to give credit to those students who meet the common requirements of the best colleges and the universities. The work done here is recognized and accepted by them.

Senior Class History

THE Senior class entered Wesleyan the Fall of 1912, with a membership of twenty-two. During our four years stay in our beloved college there have been many changes in the personnel of our class. Seven of our original members, by adding credits during the Summer schools, were enabled to graduate with the class of 1915, while on the other hand our ranks have been recruited from other classes and from graduates of other schools, so that we now have a membership of twenty-six.

It might be interesting to note that our class is the second College class that has maintained a complete organization throughout its College Career. The President of the class in its Freshman year was Walter C. Phillips; Sophomore year, Ralph C. Brown; Junior year, W. C. Bobbitt; and this year, John Snowden Kellison.

Every organization of the school that has helped to make Wesleyan famous finds stalwart, enthusiastic, and efficient members in our class. We have furnished two inter-collegiate debaters, Bobbitt on the team of 1915, and Smith on the teams of 1912 and 1913, and two inter-club debaters, McQuain, representing the Webster Club during the Winter term, and Bobbitt, representing the Wesleyan club in the Spring term of 1916. We have furnished the Oratorical Association with two presidents, Smith for the year of 1913-14, and Bobbitt for the year of 1914-15, and also with two secretaries, Smith for the year of 1912-13, and McQuain for the year of 1914-15.

In religious work our class has not been wanting, since Hammer has served as president of the Homiletic Association in 1915-16, and McQuain as president of the Y. M. C. A. in 1915-16, while Smith for three years has been leader of the song service of the Association and Students' Meetings. The majority of our class are active Christian workers.

One of the greatest achievements ever accomplished by a Wesleyan student will remain as a monument to Murdock's untiring efforts which resulted in placing chairs in the gallery of the College Auditorium.

Members of our class have certainly done their share in putting Wesleyan on the Athletic map. Kellison has the unique distinction of being the only West Virginian who was ever suggested by Walter Camp for a position on an All-American Football team. He was Football captain in 1915. Singleton was basket ball captain in 1915, and is conceded to be one of the best all-round athletes in the state. Merrills and Bobbitt have both done creditable work in athletics, the former taking active part in Football, Baseball and Basket Ball, and the latter having won his letter as a gridiron performer in 1915. Miss Clark is a star performer on the girl's basket ball team, and the same is true of Miss Spies.

Our achievements in literary work are well up to the standard. Misses Mayfield, Fitzwater, Jordon, Boylen, and Lovett are short story writers and essayists of ability, while Misses Mayfield, Reger, and Fitzwater, as well as Miss Powers, excel as readers. Malcolm is noted as a Historian, and Kellison is contributor to many periodicals both within and beyond the boundaries of our state. To the Murmurmontis we have contributed an Editor-in-Chief, Bobbitt in 1914-15, and two Business Managers, Smith in 1913-14, and Kellison in 1914-15.

In music at least two of our class have distinguished themselves, Miss Clark, and Mr. Smith as vocal soloists, and Mr. Smith also as a Band Director. Miss Clark, Harvey, and Smith have been members of the Glee Clubs.

Harvey and Smith have both been honored with the presidency of the Excelsior Literary Society, and Bobbitt has been similarly honored by the Chrestomathean Society. Both Bobbitt and Smith have served as presidents of the Wesleyan Debating Club, and Smith was one of its founders and thereby one of the originators of the Debating Club idea in our College. Both Harvey and McQuain were charter members of the Webster Debating Club and have served it as presidents.

The Misses Cameron are brilliant students in Chemistry and Mathematics. W. R. Grose is the affable and popular superintendent of schools of the City of Buckhannon. Hermon Grose and Misses Fitzwater, Griffin, Jordon and others have taught, most of them in High Schools.

While we feel that we have accomplished something we realize that our geat task is yet to be performed, and we undertake our work with strong hearts in the full confidence that we shall do a worthy part in life and shall help to reflect honor upon our Alma Mater.

ANNA SPIES

Buckhannon, West Va.

"Annie"

Buckhannon High School, '14; Chrestomathean Literary Society; Murmurmontis Staff; Y. W. C. A.

Of all the people that Buckhannon High has given us we are glad to have "Annie." We believe that if we look the world over we would never find such a womanly person. She always goes about the halls with a quiet dignity that speaks wonderfully well for her. She is the only German member of the class and is, of course, a brillant German student of Prof. Beck.

WILLIAM SAMUEL JACOBS

Buckhannon, West Va.

"Bill"

This man was once caught studying.

Clarksburg High; Mercersburg; Kiskiminetas; Vice President Athletic Association '14; President Junior Class '15-'16; Captain Basket Ball '16; Business Manager '17 Murmurmontis; President Shakespearean Club '16; Varsity Football '13-'14-'15; Varsity Basket Ball '14-'15-'16; Vice President Chrestomathean Literary Society Spring '16; Wesleyan Debating Club; Y. M. C. A.

"Bill" is our president and one of whom we are more than proud. He has time, besides attending to all his work in College organizations, to be a student and after one hears him explain life from a philosophical view, as he believes it, we know he thinks much and seriously. In speaking and talking-well, you could find no better for he belongs to the senior oratory class. His "speech" is a necessity at every "Thuse." He is known to all the students by his appearances in chapel telling about the "Murmurmontis," and the splendid way in which he has been Business Manager of this book shows us that he will always be a success at this kind of work.

BROSIE ORVILLA SINE

Buckhannon, West Va.

"Brosie"

Serious, studious, and sweet.

Secretary Sophomore Class, 14-'15; Vice President, Excelsior Literary Society, Winter, '16; Vice President, Y. W. C. A. '15-'16; Pharos Staff, '13-'14-'15; Secretary Athletic Association, '15-'16; Murmurmontis Staff, '17; Piano, Wesleyan, '15.

Brosie has distinguished herself in many ways since her college career began. She is is one of the best workers in the class, always ready and willing to take up any task she may be called upon to perform. Whether it be in literary society, Y. W. C. A., class work or elsewhere, she is always ready to give a helping hand; no matter how much work she has on hand, she is ready to help someone else. Brosie is a musician of no little skill, having finished the course in Piano offered here, in 1915. She teaches in the Buckhannon High School and coaches the Girl's Basket Ball team. Her ability as a coach is demonstrated by the fact that she turned out one of the best High School girls teams in the State. Brosie is very attractive and popular, and has created no little sensation in many a young man's heart.

RAYMOND WORTH SHUMAKER

Buckhannon, West Va.

"Big Shu"

A good heart and a level head.

Wesleyan Academy, '13; Editor-in-Chief, '17 Murmurmontis; President Athletic Association, '13-'14-'15-'16; President Chrestomathean Literary Society, Spring '13; President Wesleyan Debating Club, Fall '15; Vice President Y. M. C. A., '15; Varsity Football, Basket Ball, and Track, 1, 2, 3; Business Manager, Pharos, '15; Inter-Collegiate Debate, '13-'14-'15; Winner Peace Oration Contest, '15; Wesleyan Student Field Agent, Vacation, '15; Shakespearean Club; Inter-Club Debate, Fall Term, '15; Inter-Society Contest, Spring, '16.

"Big Shu" is the man of the Class of '17 who is the most worthy of tribute. He comes from Buckhannon and is living up to the standard of the home boys as students and men of prominence. The list of activities noted above will show his powers as a student, athlete, and true representative of Wesleyan. The tribute, whatever it may be, from the college, students, or the Class of '17 will not be as just a tribute as he deserves. He has been a mainstaay in whtever organization or activity that he has taken part in during his college career. We expect greater things from "Big Shu" in whatever endeavor in life of which he becomes a part, in the future. We wish him the best of success.

DOFF D. DANIELS

Marshes, West Va.

"Dog"

A modest blush he wears.

Beckley Institute; Concord Normal '13; Baseball '14, '15; Captain-elect Baseball '16; Basket Ball '14, '16; Captain Reserves Basket Ball '14; Y. M. C. A; Assistant Business Manager, Murmurmontis; Treasurer, Junior Class '15-'16.

"Dog" came to us blushing and he will most likely wear the same blush when he leaves us after graduation. Blushing usually portrays innocence, but "Dog" is not the innocent, backward fellow you would expect him to be. He can hold his place with any one on the basket ball floor, the baseball field, or with the ladies. We do not know whether he will ever succeed as a doctor of medicine, because lately, his tendencies have been pointing very strongly in the direction of becoming a manufacturer or a "Miller." The milling business is becoming very good and our advice is for "Dog" to stick to the sugar country, the ever-"gladas."

NELL FLYNN

Kingwood, West Va.

"Nell"

A light heart lives long.

Randolph Macon Woman's College, '13; Excelsior Literary Society; Y. W. C. A., Girls' Basket Ball Team, '15; Rooting Club; Secretary Junior Class, '16.

This care-free and whole-hearted girl is just the kind that makes herself agreeable to everyone. Thus we all are interested in her and especially, one, namely "Pat." She lives on Fourth Floor of the Ladies' Hall, and this is enough for us to know that she enjoys fun and having great times with Miss Wyman.

CHAS. K. ALLEN
Wilkinsburg, Pa.
"Hank"

Don't call me for breakfast, boys, the day is too long.

Wilkinsburg High, '12; Excelsior Literary Society; Y. M. C. A; Varsity Football '13, '14, '15; Varsity Baseball '14, '15; Manager Class Basket Ball '16; Glee Club '13, '14, '15; Vice-Pres. Glee Club '15; Assistant to Editor-in-Chief, Murmurmontis, '17. Bachelors Club, '15-'16; "H-R" Bunch.

"Hank" came to us from Pennsylvania. When he first joined our class, we realized that he was a man of great ability. Besides being a good student, he has made an enviable record in athletics. He has quite a little musical talent and may be heard almost any hour of the night, with the bunch, serenading the girls at "the Hall." In fact, "Hank's" ability seems to be almost unlimited, for no matter what he may be asked to do, he is always on the job, willing and smiling. He is very popular among the "fair sex," although he is one of the most prominent members of the "Bachelors Club." Without him the "H-R"s would often be at a loss as to how to proceed when attempting to pull off a "stunt," for "Hank" is the mainstay of that organization.

J. CLAUDE LAW
Jane Lew, West Va.
"Red"

A lion among ladies.

Wesleyan Academy, '12; Men's Glee Club; Excelsior Literary Society; Normal, '15; Class Basket Ball Team.

Throughout his stay at Wesleyan "Red" has always been known as having an extremely great interest in the co-eds but indeed he does not confine his time to just this. Truly he should be called a man of ambition for he is a teacher in the Buckhannon Public Schools and during Basket Ball Season, coached some of the High School class teams. Besides all these things he does his college work well. Then, we are proud of this Junior class member because he is a singer, and especially known in the College Mens' Quartet.

PAUL W. WORKMAN
Fairmont, West Va.
"Paul"

A bundle of nerves and energy.

Wheeling High, '12; Cheer Leader '13-'14-'15; Track Team, '14; President, Excelsior Literary Society, Fall '15; Business Manager, Pharos '15-'16; Y. M. C. A. Cabinet, '15-'16; Inter-Collegiate Debate, '15; Inter-Club Contest Debate Winter, '16; Inter-Society Contest, Spring, '16; Second Prize, Fergus Oration Contest, '15.

After Paul came to us in the fall of '13, from Wheeling High, he showed us what good work a cheer leader can do. Thru his untiring efforts our athletic teams were given the best cheering that had been known for some years before and every Wesleyan student should remember and not be in different to this fact. However Paul's best work is done in the debating Club. In all Debates he shows us his ability both by his material and the way he orates. No one knows yet what life-work he has chosen, but from the way he did the work of a surgeon in the German Hospital scene of the Junior Class stunt, we might think that he would make a success of this work.

Nevertheless we do know he is very happy when he can have his own "Will (mot)."

C. NEY SMITH
Blaine, West Va.
"Smithy"

By his works ye shall know him.

Keyser High School; President, Chrestomathean Literary Society, Fall '15; Y. M. C. A. Cabinet; Cheer Leader '15-'16; Literary Editor, Murmurmontis, '17; Inter-Collegiate Debate, '15; Inter-Club Debate, '16; Manager of Debate '15-'16.

The Junior Class is honored by having the cheer-leader of '15-'16 as a member, and altho "Smithy" has never been interested in holding a position on any athletic team, still he is a great Athletic enthusiast and judging from his chapel debate, he is one of Wesleyan Debating Club's best members.

It is said that he makes an A to Prof. Haught in chemistry and that his term records show nothing less than A. We understand he has two ways of reciting to the "profs"-one by knowing the stuff and the other by talking so fast that it is quite unintelligible. He is able to convince them by both methods. We owe many thanks to "Smithy" for the way he has worked in preparing the literary part of this book.

FLO BAILEY
Buckhannon, West Va.
"Flo"

As merry as the day is long.

Flo is a valuable and faithful member of the chapel choir. In every class she is a good student and it is said that she answers more questions in Trigonometry than all the others. For a sunny and kind disposition, no better could be found for only once this year has she been angry and that was the time when she and Prof. Casto were having a little argument . As to what she will be, we can only surmise but now she is the class sufferegette.

ISAAC POST
Buckhannon, West Va.
"Ike"

He is too wise to be all good.

Wesleyan Academy '13; Oratory '15; Wesleyan debating Club; Cheer Leader, '14-'15; Chrestomathean Literary Society.

"Ike" is one of the boys from Buckhannon who has distinguished himself as a student, especially as a literary student. He has covered himself with glory many times by winning prize contests in oratory and by reading. He has shown his oratorical powers many times by stirring the "pep" and enthusiasm in the students, urging them to help their teams by cheering and yelling, during their hard fought battles. We are expecting great things from "Ike" in latter life. As a statesman, he will sway many audiences by his eloquence in appeals to go "back to the soil" and develop the resources of our country, especially, the orange growing districts of the sunny South. "Ike" will have to cater to the women more than he does at present, in order to get the "sufferage vote" of the country, if he ever wishes to be recognized as a leader in the United States Senate, to which he is aspiring.

WALDEN HATHAWAY
Buckhannon, West Va
"Hath"

"I hurry not, neither do I worry."

Shepherdstown Normal; Wesleyan Commercial, '13; Excelsior Literary Society; Secretary, Wesleyan Debating Club, Spring '16; Recording Secretary, Y. M. C. A. '16-'17; Lecture Course Committee, '15-'16.

"Hath" is one of our easy-going, good natured young men who may be seen any time wearing a smile on his countenance and a contented look as he slowly drifts along the walks of the campus. He always fights clear of the girls, not that the girls may win his heart, but he does not like to hurry. "Hath" does not make a proclamation to announce his arrival or presence anywhere. You can always find him, willing to work when there is any work to be done. He is one of the best workers in the class, always ready with a willing hand to help any one or with anything. He acts as if this were his motto:-

"Many willing hands make light work."

We are looking forward to the time when we hear of this slow easy-going fellow in the Engineering work of the country, solving some of the great problems of the Cival Engineers.

PERRY ROBINSON
Buckhannon, West Va.
"Roby"

He's quiet but he delivers the goods.

Wesleyan Academy '08; Murmurmontis Staff, '08; Debate, Special Literary Program '08; Excelsior Literary Society; Y. M. C. A., Volunteer Band. Perry has preached several years, and now returns to complete his work.

After graduating in the Academy '08 "Roby" left Wesleyan and traveled through the western states, but he was unable to find a place which pleased him in any way as much as his old West Virginia school. After being away for several years he entered Wesleyan again in the fall of '15. There are only a very few other students who have the same honor as he, and that is-he is a married man.

RALPH HALL
Buckhannon, West Va.
"Hall"

Studious of ease and fond of humble things

Buckhannon High School, '13; Chrestomathean Literary Society; Murmurmontis Staff.

Hall is one of the best men of all the Class Basket Ball Teams and he does play good ball too. Altho very quiet and unassuming as he goes about his work still we know that he is doing real college work. He is very serious-looking at all times and the only time he does smile is in French class. As yet, he has never thought of being a friend to any one of the fair sex.

WARD E. GAMBLE
New Martinsville, West Va.
"Ward"

The world knows nothing of its greatest men.

Excelsior Literary Society; Webster Debating Club; Y. M. C. A., Marshall College '12.

Ward is a Latin scholar of no mean ability and this is the way we came to form his acquaintance. A man of higher standard could not be found anywhere and we expect great things of him. We seldom hear him speak when in the Halls or on the Campus, but it is when the "profs" question him that we find he is a person having a great store of knowledge.

W. Guy Morrison
Beckley, West Va.
"Guy"

A student (?) and athlete.

Athletic Director, '11, '12, 13', '14; Football '13, '14, '15; Basket Ball and Track '13, '14, '15; Captain Basket Ball '13; Captain-elect Track '16; All State End, Football, for Three Years; First Man to Win Four W's in One Year; Shakespearean Club; Wesleyan Debating Club; Excelsior Literary Society; Y. M. C. A.

Guy came to us fom Beckley, W. Va., long years ago, a very green, unsophisticated youth who had always fought shy of the girls. But, within a short time, along with the educational effects of the college, came a new and sensational disease, the girls, which attacked Guy. The girls are Guy's greatest failing.

He has never been known to have a failing in athletics or college work. But, Oh! those girls. The sailor, with a girl in every town, has not a thing on Guy, because he has a girl in every W. Va. town and a few towns outside the state. Guy seems to have a literary trend of mind and thought, being a very good reader and orator, but we wish he were a writer, not poet, to give to suffering humanity the secret of his success with the girls.

Carl V. Miler
New Martinsville, West Va.
"Bessie"

A lover of the ladies three, or five.

Magnolia High School '11; Captain-elect, Football '16; Varsity Football and Baseball '13-'14-'15; Track Team '14-'15; Y.M.C.A.

"Bessie" is an "honest to goodness" man who hails from New Martinsville. He is one of the exceptional fellows who is a student and an athlete. "Bessie" has scored many points in Track, Baseball, and Football for old Wesleyan since he entered college . He is little but can run. He has out-run nearly a dozen Indians a number of times. He will bear watching in the future, for he puts all he has into anything he starts to do. "Bessie" is very popular with the ladies. There is one he favors more than the rest, but it is evident that he may become entangled in the "McCoy-Hatfield" as a result of this and we wish to give warning to him.

VIVIAN LIGGET
Buckhannon, West Va.
"Vivian"

Loaded with conscientious thoroughness.

Buckhannon High School; Y. W. C. A.

Every morning we see Vivian come to the Library with as many books as would be possible for her to carry and we know that she spends her evenings doing "reference work"—being one of a very few who keeps note books up-to-date. This makes her a favorite with the professors.

LUTHER FLYNN
Arbovals, West Va.
"Blondy"

A very gentle beast of good conscience.

Shepherd College Normal, '13; Chrestomathean Literary Society; Vice President, Y. M. C. A. '15-'16; Treasurer, '16-'17; Vice President, Webster Debating Club, Fall '15; Secretary, Volunteer Band, '15-16.

"Blondy" spends part of his time teaching, for it seems as if he "absorbs" erudition so rapidly that every few days he goes as a substitute teacher to the local public schools to impart a share of his ample store of knowledge to the pupils there, and comes back to us for still deeper study, for to say that he is profound is putting it mildly. When "Blondy" finally leaves Wesleyan and migrates back to the wilds of Pocahontas County, the namesake of Capt. John Smith's rescuer, he will do wonders among the natives of that isolated and benighted land. Judging from his active work in the Volunteer Band, we surmise that he will not remain there many years, but will find his life-work in a foreign country as a teacher.

W. D. Judy
Circleville, West Va.
"Denny"

Men of few words are the best of men.

Y. M. C. A.; Excelsior Literary Society; Chaplain Excelsior, Spring, '12; Wesleyan Normal '15; Treasurer, Senior Normal Class, '14-15; Elocution '13.

"Denny is one of our "nearly-weds," at least we think so. We do know that he is an earnest and deep student and judging from the kind of work that he has been doing at Wesleyan, he surely will win a wide reputation as a pedagogue. He already has acquired the habit of dignity and of saying something worth while when he speaks.

William O. Hinkle
Buckhannon, West Va.
"Prof"

A man of many jobs.

V. Pres. Junior Normal Class '13 and Pres. '14. Chaplain Excelsior Lit. Society Spring Term'15; Treas. Oratorical Association '14-15; Pres. '15-16; Chairman Mission Study '15-16; Member of the Deabting Team 1914; Winner of the State W. C. T. U. Essay Prize 1915.

"Prof." is another of our students who is happily wedded. We know already that he intends to do pedagogical work after he has completed his college work, and a happy choice he has made for he is a man of profound wisdom and learning. He is so earnest and enthusiastic about his work that he has now begun teaching in the local public school and the reports are that he is doing splendid work.

GORDON GROVER JONES
Buckhannon, West Va.
"Preacher"

A serious student.

West Kentucky Seminary and Teachers' Training School; Methodist Protestant School of Theology, West Minister, Md.; Y. M. C. A.

"Brother" Jones has the largest family of any student in Wesleyan. His home is in Buckhannon at the present but as he is a preacher, he is compelled to move rather often. Jones is quite an English student and often takes up much time with his long philosophical discussions of the questions that come up in the daily class work. This, of course, delights the other students because while he is talking, other questions are prevented being asked by the instructor. He has a thirst for knowledge and a great passion for doing religious work so we feel sure that he will have quite an influence for good when he gets out into the world.

HARVEY A. SHEETS
Buckhannon, West Va.
"Sheets"

Built for endurance and not for speed.

Glenville Normal; Salem College; Salem Normal Course, '12; Webster Debating Club; Track Team '15.

"Sheets" has made good in his varied career and we hope for some great things from him in the future. He is the biggest man in the Class of '17 and we expect him to be a bigger man in the affairs of the educational world in the near future. Sheets came to us from Salem College with a reputation as one of the best "weight men" in the State. He has been holding the weight job on our Track Team for two years and will hold it until graduation is our prediction. He has made good as the principal of a school before coming to us, and his tendencies are pointing in that direction after finishing his college course. This year, Harvey made good in another line of endeavor, love, and took unto himself a Frau, for better or for worse. We extend our heartiest congratulations and best wishes to him to make good in that form of endeavor as he has done in all his undertakings, heretofore.

IRMA WORKMAN
Fairmont, West Va.
"Irma"

A disposition to make every corner cosy.

Editor Pharos, '15-'16; President Y. W. C. A. '15-16; Secretary Freshman Class, '13-'14; Girls' Basket Ball Team, '14; Y. W. C. A. Cabinet, '14-'15; Excelsior Literary; Murmurmontis Staff; Winner Second Prize Ison Essay Contest, '15; Inter-Society Contest, '16.

Irma is one of the most active class members we have and never could we find a busier girl. As soon as she came to Wesleyan in the fall of '13, she found an interest in all college organizations. Her ability as a leader has been shown by the wonderful work she did as President of the Young Womens' Christian Association, for she was able to bring this organization up to a higher standard than it had ever had before. Those who attended the Jubilee Meetings of the 50th anniversary of the Association know how willingly she gave her efforts to this work. She is an all-round student and an honor to all Wesleyan. Her one short-coming is eating sandwiches just before the "lights-out" bell.

HARRY V. LOONEY
Spencer, West Va.
"Looney"

It is not good that man should be alone.

Basket Ball, '14; President Men's Glee Club, '14-'15; President Sophomore Class, '14-'15; Baseball, '15; Treasurer Men's Glee Club, '13-'14; Y. M. C. A. Cabinet '15-'16; Keeper of Archives, Athletic Association, '16; Murmurmontis Staff '16; Business Manager of the Glee Club '15-'16; Y. M. C. A. Lecture Course Committee, '15-'16; Chrestomathean.

Harry is from Spencer, W. Va., the county-seat of Roane, where the State Insane Asylum is located. Now, just because his name is Looney, that does not signify feeble-mindedness or insanity but the opposite.

Looney is one of our promising young men who should soar to great heights in political power and eminence as champion of the Labor Unions and the Workingman's rights. He is rather socialistic in his theories of the rights of "the Workman," in that, they should share equally the fruits of capital. We have sufficient evidence of Looney's steadfastness and loyalty in the behalf of "the Workman" to identify his tendencies and thoughts as centered in this cause. In the near future, the predictions are that Looney will link himself with the movement to improve the environment of "the Workman." The best wishes of the Class of '17 is with him because "the Workman" rules and always will.

Our Class, the Class of '17, enrolled with distinction. This distinction lay in enrolling the largest class which had matriculated at Wesleyan up to its entrace. We are compelled to share this position with the classes that preceded us and with two classes which followed us. Our minds were unprejudiced and open.

In our Sophomore year, however, we took up very strongly with a Baptist Doctrine, the remission of sin thru the application of water. The Freshmen were the sinners. We are an entertaining bunch and we undertook to entertain ourselves at the Gym. The Freshmen wished to aid us but, in their mistaken zeal, only succeeded in removing some of the light we already had. We invited them to the feast and they came, each with a Sophomore on either side of him. It was after the spread that certain of them received the "benefit of Clergy" at the pool.

This year we have been making Wesleyan Athletics possible, supplying a large porportion of the men for each team. We have also studied Field Hospital Methods of the German Army, improving upon the treatment in such a manner that the patients are all cut up over it, giving stump-speeches in its behalf. In their condition they can be expected to do no more, because, after the amputations, even their breath was too short.

Alas! Alas! I love a lass;
A lass I love, said he;
But alas! alas! this lass I love
The lass, she scorneth me.

The lass, at last she came to love.
To love at last came she.
But alas! the lad another had
When at last she spake her yea.

The History of the Class of '19.

THE real beginning of the Freshmen Class is unknown. Authorities differ on this point, but the circumstances which brought it about most probably took place in the year 1914-15. The exact nature of the circumstances themselves cannot be authentically stated.

However one September day of th year 1915 there was an annual excitement in many homes throughout our beloved state. The cause of this excitement was the thirst for knowledge that the offspring in these homes had acquired during the four fruitful years in high school. The boys and girls were to start their college career and as many other wise students they selected West Virginia Wesleyan College for the starting place.

Having landed safely in Buckhannon the dreadful task of enrolling was before the collegians-to-be, many found it quite different than what they had gone through with in hgih school. But realizing that "faint heart never won an education" they soon were enrolled and proceeded to pursue knowledge with vengeance.

Finally after several attempts these studious people were organized into the College Freshman Class. (With much interest the officers were elected, the results of the election were—French Smith, rpesident; Russell Burnside, vice president; Fae McClellan, secretary; Simon Caprenter, treasurer; Virginia Arbuthnot, Historian.

Since the organization of the class is the most important thing that has been done and history is still in the making the class of '19 will be heard of again not only as a whole but thorough each individual. No member of this class could do otherwise than make his class and school famous.

Senior Normal Class Prophecy

ONDERFUL isn't it" said the President. "Almost inconceivable" replied the Dean, "thirty years ago today, you as President and I as Dean of Wesleyan College witnessed the graduation of that class. There was nothing to say unusual nor particularly striking about the class. It had the usual number of old maids, handsome but apparently too old to marry, young girls too giddy to marry, and young men with "flunking" records unexcelled. But I never dreamed of what this class was destined to accomplish. Do you realize the fact that every member of that class, old maids and all, has married and married well; that the boys who were then known as flunkers are now among the most successful business men of the state?" "Teaching," said the president, "is a great profession and you must remember that every member of that class engaged in that profession for a number of years after graduation, with marked success. Yes, it is almost inconceivable, to think of any one class furnishing a president and a dean, our successors at Wesleyan, and at least a half dozen of the most learned and successful teachers on the faculty of that great University, yet that is what it has done. In the business and professional world that one class, the Waugh Class of 1916, has made Wesleyan famous. I regret Dean that we were so soon replaced in our positions by members of that class, but as honest men we must admit that we never could have accomplished for the school what these men have accomplished. "Yes and Woman Suffrage in West Virginia," said the Dean, "was won mainly by the efforts of the women who were members of that class. And just think of it more than a dozen of these women have been elected to high official positions and have many times been honored by the voters of the state with positions of trust, and in every instance have made good. Truly, it was a great class." (Extract from the conversation of Ex-President Fleming and Dean Haught formerly of Wesleyan College, at the meeting of the State Educational Association, held at Burning Springs, West Virginia, on June 16 and 17, 1946.)

East of Wheeling he maintains the Waddington Farms, where experiments in agriculture and stock raising have been conducted for several years without personal profit. In addition to supervising the experimentation farm, Mr. Oglebay has brought about the establishment of an agricultural department in connection with Bethany College. Class History

TO write a history that would do justice to the class, which in many respects is the greatest class that ever graduated from the Academic Department of West Virginia Wesleyan College, would require too much time and space, therefore we make this a brief history.

As an organization, the class had its beginning in the fall of 1914, when a few young ladies and gentlemen met and organized the Junior Class of that year. This class has shown great vim and foresight in all of its activities and as a result secured the most "Useful Citizen of West Virginia," as its class sponsor, Mr. Earl W. Oglebay of Wheeling. Mr. Oglebay is a member of the State Board of Regents and is known all over the state as an iron and steel magnate. He has subscribed liberally to funds to carry on the teaching of Agriculture at Bethany College and the State University, and has for a number of years, maintained the Waddington Farms near Wheeling where experiments in scientific agriculture and stock raising are carried on without personal pirofit. The West Virginia Panama-Pecific Exposition Committee unanimously designated him as the "Useful Citizen of West Viriginia."

The class demnostrated a marked degree of ability and good judgment when it succeded in substituting a series of baseball games for the regular class fight and showing its superiority over the Senior Class in baseball.

The class arranged a post office and handled all kinds of mail (also male) and parcels post packages at the County Fair held in the gymnasium November 1, 1915, and was awarded the prize for taking in the largest amount of money of any of the college or academic classes. This accomplishment awakened pride in every member of the class and is suggestive of the ability of the class to do the thing it sets out to do.

This class is made up of young men and women who will occupy important positions. We entertain the brightest hopes for their future success, and trust that each one may continue the good work begun here, and prove to be a blessing to himself and those with whom he may come in contact.

History of Junior Academic Class

SOME people are physically full but mentally empty; at least we find this so with the Academic Freshmen and Seniors. But the Juniors are both physically and mentally full, so you can expect great things of them.

Since the organization of our class, early in the year, we have had our way to fight, our troubles to overcome, and great obstacles to surmount. We have bravely withstood the overbearing and haughty Seniors, have far surpassed the uprising Sophomores, and condescendingly humored and tolerated those abominable Freshmen.

While we have not made as brilliant a record as some other classes, we are not discouraged. We have among us those whose minds are as great or greater than any found in Wesleyan today, and in whom determination is firmly seated.

We have not received much outside help, neither do we need it, nor do we expect it, from either the haughty Senior or the humble Freshman. For as someone has said, "If we would be well served we should serve ourselves." This we have done and if the Junior class is not as brilliant as it should have been, we at least have the satisfaction of knowing that we have done our best.

Our Junior boys and girls are especially noticeable in every line of College activity, in athletics, in literary work and in spoonology. The tall, broad shouldered, deep chested boys formed a basket ball team early in the year, which, in our estimation will sweep every class team before like chaff before the wind. Anyone of these boys can rise up before his Junior sisters in the literary societies and speak with the language of a Demosthenes, thus proclaiming his future greatness.

The winter term of our school is well on its way and as we look back over the past we see that our time has not been idly spent. We have worked together, stood side by side helping each other, and have always been ready to extend a helping hand to an outsider. We have dug our way through the rough and rugged fields of Greek and Latin conjugations, which are such an eyesore to the Freshman, who is ever ready to stretch his neck and "rubber" into the upper regions in which he has no concern.

But now as spring will soon be here and we shall see the leaves burst forth and hear the joyous songs of the birds among them, we can safely and thankfully say, "Well done ye good and faithful Juniors, ye have done well over a few things, therefore, in the coming year ye shall be ruler over many things."

The Young Men's Christian Association

IT has now been sixteen years since the Young Men's Christian Association was organized at Wesleyan, and during all of that sixteen years, it, with the Sister Association, the Young Woman's Christian Association has been the great factor that has made Wesleyan different from other Colleges, there is the place that class distinction has been broken down and kept down, there is the place that brotherhood reigns, this is the great leaven in the great lump of humanity at Wesleyan.

The work of the Y. M. C. A. has been carried on in the same efficient manner this year as in years past and we will not take time to mention all the things we are doing, but only the more important things as we see them. All the departments of the association have been in a good healthy condition.

The Y. M. C. A. Lecture Course has had a good year under the management of Thomas Zumbrennen, and the course has been a good one. The Smith Spring Holmes Company; The Weber Male Quartet; John B. Ratto; Bartolotta, the Italian Tenor and Orchestra; Dr. S. Parkes Cadman; The Edward Clarke Concert Co.; and Dr. E. O. Ott, were the attractions on the Course. This year's course was a success and with a special number some of the debt from last year has been made up.

The Special Evangelistic Meetings under the leadership of Dr. W. Wofford T. Duncan, pastor of the James M. E. Church, Brooklyn, N. Y., were held February 7th to 14th. They were a great blessing to all who attended and the hall was crowded every evening. These were some of the best meetings that we have had at the College in years. In his quiet, direct, sincere, and far-reaching way Dr. Duncan reached the hearts of the student body and won many to the great Captain and Leader.

Another thing that deserves special mention this year is the seating of the balcony of the auditorium with good comfortable chairs. This has been needed for a long time and at last it has been accomplished by the characteristic self-sacrifice of the Y. M. C. A. boys.

The work of the Y. M. C. A. this year has just gone a little farther to demonstrate that for one to miss getting acquainted with his Christ while in College, he is missing a large part of his Liberal Education as well, and the salvation of his soul. The Wesleyan College Young Men's Christian Association has nothing but bright prospects ahead.

Young Women's Christian Association

THE Purpose of this Association shall be to unite the women of the institution in loyalty to Jesus Christ, to lead them to accept Him as their personal Savior, to build them up in the knowledge of Christ, especially through Bible study and Christian service, that their character and conduct may be consonant with their belief. It shall thus associate them with the students of the world for the advancement of the Kingdom of God. It shall further seek to enlist their devotion to the Christian Church and to the religious work of the institution."

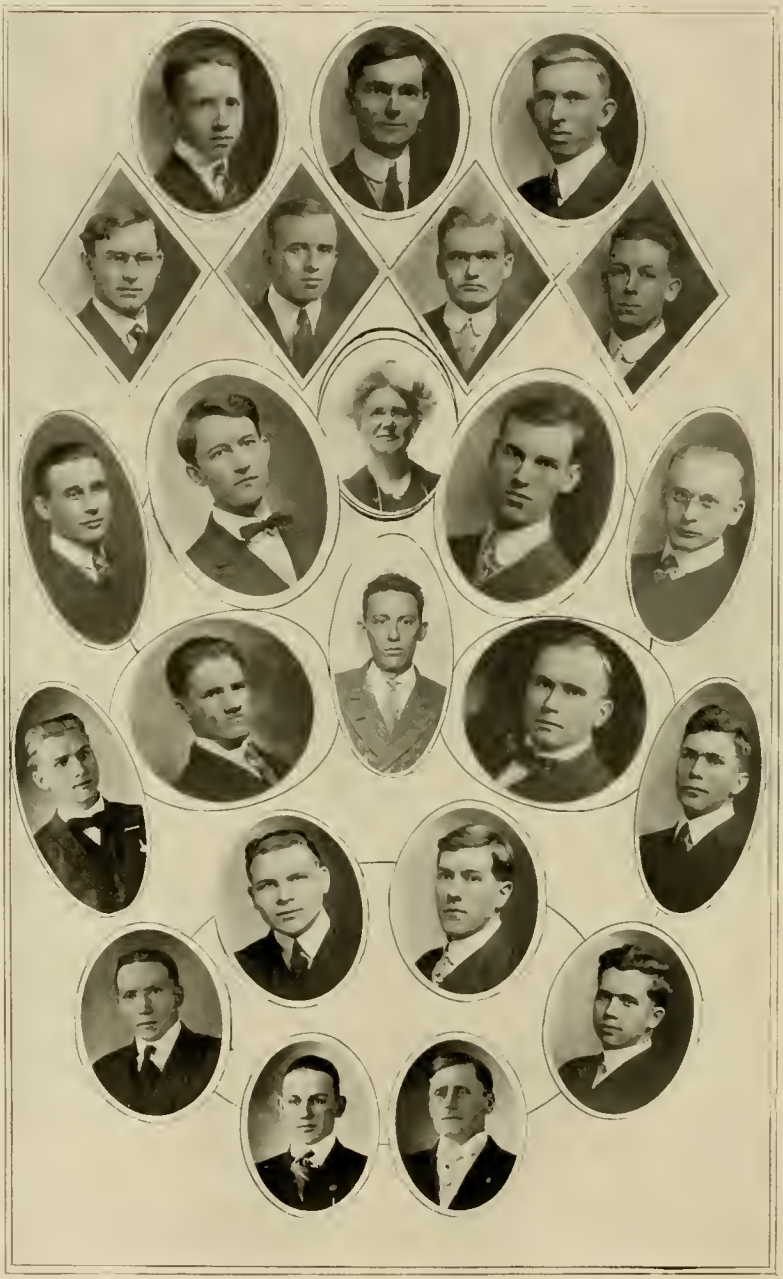
Wesleyan Debating Club

THE ideal of the Wesleyan Debating Club is expressed in its name. Wesley was pre-eminently a debater. He grasped his subject in its entirety; he saw all the details and their relation to each other; he keenly discriminated between the essentials and non-essentials; he presented his argument with a force that brought conviction; he showed the coolness of a general and the quickness of a genius in turning difficult situations to his own account.

Toward that ideal our club has been the means of advancing every one of its members. It has brought together twenty-five young men, who are especially interested in public speaking, in such a way that their association has been a mutual stimulus and an inspiration. Through the friendly rivalry which it fosters and the high ideal which it holds up it has deepened this interest into a firm determination to be a convincing speaker, and through its regular bi-weekly debates it has given opportunity for the practical work necessary for the realization of this ambition.

The work of this year has been unusually successful. The silver cup offered by Miss Harding to the winner of the contest with the Webster club has heightened and kept up the enthusiasm. The membership is at the maximum allowed by the constitution and several others are seeking admittance. Carefully prepared work has characterized the programs throughout the year.



Webster Debating Club

THIS organization having had its beginning in the Winter term of 1914 is comparatively new; but notwithstanding this fact, judging from the talent and the achievements thus far represented, it is destined to become one of the permanent institutions of the school.

The majority of the club members are of college rank, however the normal and academic departments are represented. It is the ambition of the club to furnish intellectual development for any student who is enthusiastic over debating.

There is a decided improvement in the work of this year over that of last year, in that the interest and enthusiasm has greatly increased. This is due largely to the efforts of Miss Harding, the head of the oratorical department, who is succeeding in placing oratory and debating on a par with other school activities.

The officers of the club at present are as follows:

Minnie L. Harding	Directress
Blaine Engle	President
Maynard Linger	Secretary
John C. Hupp	Vice President
Leslie V. Roberts	Treasurer

Inter-Club Debates

AT the beginning of this College year Miss Minna L. Harding of the Department of Expression planned a series of inter-Club debates, one debate to be held each term thruout the school year for three successive years. The Club winning two out of the three debates in a single year is to be the winner for said year. The Club winning the honors for two years out of the three shall become the owner of a large handsome loving cup which Miss Harding offers as a trophy.

The Fall term debate was won by the Wesleyan Club while the Webster Club was winner in the Winter Term bout. The debates are held during the chapel period and the period immediately following. The loving cup was first presented to M. A. Workman and R. W. Shumaker, Wesleyan representatives in the Fall Term debate. Near the close of the Winter Term it was transferred to the Webster Club, being presented to P.C. McQuain and Maynard Linger, winners of the Winter Term debate. Both presentations were made at the regular chapel service by Dr. Wallace B. Fleming. Much enthusiasm is being created by the debates.

CHALLENGE

CHAPEL ANNOUNCEMENT

The Webster Debating club is hereby challenged to enter into a conflict of words and arguments with the Wesleyan Debating Club for the forensic supremacy of the college.

Should the Webster Debating Club decide to accept this challenge, let them manifest themselves, so that the question may be agreed upon and at the earliest possible date, the floodgates may be opened that the oratorical eloquence may flow forth in its most eloquent manner.

ANNOUNCEMENT

After careful and discriminating consideration of the far-flung vociferous challenge launched forth upon the reverberating breezes in chapel last Tuesday morning by the Wesleyan Debating Club; be it known and published to all men, that we, the Webster Debating Club, without equivocation or further circumlocution hereby receive and accept said loquacious challenge to a pyrotechnic display of forensic eloquence upon a subject to be chosen by a joint committee appointed by the two clubs, in order that luminosity may be disseminated in radiant scintillations until it shall permeate and illuminate the capacious chambers of cogitation of a keenly penetrating and highly sagacious student body.

VIRTUTE ET LABORE

Chrestomathean Literary Society

AS to our history it will be sufficient to say here that Chrestomathean was founded along with Wesleyan and has maintained her place as one of the important organizations of the school.

In a brief review of the year's work will be noted particularly the new spirit that has entered into the Literary work. The tendencies of a revival was evident all of the previous year, and this developed into a real "Rennaissance" at the opening of the present year. This spirit was made evident during the Winter Term when athletics threatened to become a contender for first place in College activities. The loyalty and support of the members at that time placed Cresto on the highest standard she has yet attained.

The nature of the programs for the two terms has been unusual and interesting. During the Fall Term special numbers were instituted dealing with our Literary "Great". Of course these were the "Bobby Burns" Special, "Kipling" Program" and "Poe the Magnetic Man." For the Winter Term this feature of special numbers was continued, among which numbers we mention the "Patriotic Special," "Lincoln Number" and "The Country Life." With the present enthusiasm for Society work, the coming year promises much for Chrestomathean and her splendid body of members.

Excelsior Literary Society

Motto: "Esse Quam Videre."

THE school year 1915-16 has been one of the most successful in the existence of Excelsior Society. The reason for this is perhaps two-fold. We have been fortunate in having officers in charge who were willing to work and capable to lead and direct the Society in those ways whlch make for success; and there has been throughout the school a reviving of the old interest in things literary. Under the influence of these two things our society has increased in numbers and interest until we feel that we are taking the place which should be ours in the life of the school. The re-establishment of the annual inter-society contest has done and is doing much to increase the strength and interest of Society work. Excelsior's representation in the contest this year is as follows:

Homiletic Association

THE Homiletic Association is now closing another successful year of its career. This association has only been organized for a few years, and during that time much good has been accomplished, not only in that it has served as a constant reminder in holding the ministerial students to their purpose in life, but giving them a larger view to the importance of the Christian ministry and preparing them to be more effective in their work.

This has been a most helpful year to the ministerial students in that they have had a professor in Homiletics who has instilled into his pupils a greater desire for the truth, a more intense love for the Bible, and impressed upon them the sacredness of the Christian ministry.

FOR years Wesleyan has had among her student body some students who were volunteers for Foreign Missionary work. In 1906 these students met and organized the Student Volunteer Band with Perry Robinson as Leader. When these Volunteers had gone from the school the regular weekly meetings were abandoned for a time. On February 5, 1915 the band was organized with a good membership of new students. Since then the Band has held it's regular meetings.

The meetings of this year have been well attended and a true Missionary spirit manifested. The needs of the various Mission fields have been studied and prayer offered by the members of the Band, for all missionary work. Some are getting larger visions of life and are realizing the great need of Christianity among the millions of human souls who have never heard of Jesus.

For the past two years the Wesleyan Band has been well rerpesented at the State Convention of the Student Volunteer Movement of this state. The vonvention for 1917 will be held at Wesleyan. This is a comparatively new movement among the College students of West Virginia but it promises to accomplish great good. Wesleyan expects to do her part in this great work.

Several new members have been added to the Band this year, and a greater zeal for missions is being shown. Arrangements are now being made to give some illustrated lectures during the Spring Term. We anticipate great things for the Volunteer Band of Wesleyan, and in the course of a few years expect her to be represented on every important Mission field

Domestic Science

We can live without poetry, music and art,
We can live without conscience and live without heart,
We can live without friends,
We can live without books,
But where is the man who can live without cooks?

THUS saying the Trustees of West Virginia Wesleyan College set to work last September to establish a Domestic Science Department. The citizens of the town became interested and in a short time the finances were at hand and the good work was started.

In this Department the girls are taught all about household management, preparing and combining foods, with special emphasis on economy in buying. They are also taught serving and the girls say Miss Smith teaches hemming tea towls and napkins via the old route of ripping.

Occasionally people became sick even while breathing the pure air at Wesleyan, so the girls are taught Home Nursing, Invalid Cooking, Dietetics, etc.

The girls would not have us believe Domestic Science is one grand sweet song or all a flowery path of ease, i. e.—A one thousand word essay on the life of Ellen H. Richards, make out a breakfast menu consisting of three courses for nine and one-third cents per cover and be sure you serve the required number of colones for a man weighing one hundred and sixty pounds, twenty five years old, doing office work.

A club is now being formed called the Domestic Science Club, and they say it is not the first domestic Club. Can anyone guess what the first one was? (The rolling pin). This Club is looking forward to the day it will have a club house where the Domestic Science students may live. They expect to have a cottage and run it on a scientific basis. Here the girls will put into practice all their knowledge of Household Hygiene, Household Sanitation, Bacteriology, Home Nursing, Dietetics, Cooking, Sewing and Home Management in general, thus making it an ideal home for young ladies as well as a workshop.

Some say the Domestic Science Department belongs to the Antis. We are not quite sure but think it is Anti-dyspepsia. Ask the basket ball team or happen into the dining room some day when the table is spread and the feast is waiting.

PARKERSBURG HIGH
STATE SCHOLASTIC CHAMPIONS

Second Annual Tournament

THE second annual high school basket ball Tournament, held at Wesleyan upon March tenth and eleventh, proved to be one of the most exciting athletic features ever held at Wesleyan. The attendance exceeded by far that of any previous occasion and when the whistle sounded for the finals over thirteen hundred people were comfortably seated in the spacious gym.

Twenty four teams participated in the games. These teams came from all parts of West Virginia, even the distant high schools of Bluefield and Martinsburg sending stellar teams to add to the intense interest of the tourney. In the second series of games it was necesssary that four teams, eliminated in the first round, be drawn back into the fray in order to make the number of games tally properly for the semi-finals. This made a total of twenty-seven games, twelve of which were staged Friday afternoon and night, eight Saturday morning, four during the afternoon and three Saturday night.

Special trains were run from various points so that out-of-town folk were given the best of accommodations. Special care was taken to give great comfort to every team and its accompanying fans. The tourney was planned and directed under the masterful Stansbury. Under him there was a host of subordinates who did valiant work.

The teams as a whole were much stronger this year than what they were last. The Parkersburg team, which carried the coveted trophy away with them, presented an appearance equal to most college teams. The Buckhannon High team presented a most wonderful combination and were the team which faced the Parkersburgers in the final game. Many other strong teams were in the series, such as Charleston, Fairmont, Bluefield, Thomas, Elkins, Clarksburg, Wellsburg and Martinsbrug.

The winner of the Tourney, Parkersburg, was presented the large silver basket ball trophy by Dr. Wallace B. Fleming. The silver loving cup offered by Dr. Fleming to the best rooting club was presented to the Buckhannon High School cheering club. Small gold basket balls were presented to the members of both the Parkersburg and Buckhannon teams. These teams, as well as every other team, left the tournament and Wesleyan with a kind feeling toward each separate team entered in the battle, toward Wesleyan athletics, and toward Wesleyan in her great big powerful world.

West Virginia Tri-Angular Track and Field Meet

CLARKSBURG the central metropolitan city of West Virginia had been waiting with anxiety for the coming of the gladiators who were to strive for victory for their respective schools. All the athletes who were to appear on the arena on May 29, 1915, were tempering their steel to the hardest point obtainable, so that each might be able to penetrate the hardened metal of the other on that eventful day. All were anxious to see the combat, and to know which of the gladiators would be successful, and which institution would be crowned with the laurels of victory.

At last the 29 day of May came upon the stage of action to witness the gladiatorial combat. The luminous orb arose out of his chamber on his course to give light for the new day. His light was tinged with a reddish color giving warning of an approaching storm. Then gradually the clouds began to appear, but with all this the people were in hope for a pleasant afternoon, although it had been rainy the day before and, cloudy then.

At the appointed hour the men in Blue and White of Marietta, the Orange and Black, our dear old colors appeared in the field of contest. All were ready for combat while the mighty cumulus clouds were preparing to drench the earth, but with this threatening the contest was opened. The colors were called to their places for the 100 yd. dash, they hovered close to the earth, then dashed toward the tape. A yell from Orange and Black told that Morrison was first and Bessie third. Then the other events followed, but soon the combatants were drenched in rain, while they splashed the mud with all their might to gain the coveted crown at the tape, while the fiery streaks rent the heavens over their heads, now and then one falling and burying his face in the mud. They were so drenched and muddy, that their colors were almost invisible.

The contest was the closest one of its kind ever held in the state. All through the contest it was a question which would win, the Blue and Gold or Orange and Black, but finally old Blue and Gold won by 1, 14-15 points.

The Bachelor's Club of Wesleyan

ON December 3, 1915, a half-dozen fellows assembled at the home of J. Hawthorne Post, with apparently no other view than that of having an enjoyable evening. But this was not all, for there was some very important business to transact before the end of the evening. What was this important business? Nothing more or less than to form some sort of an organization against the "Fair Sex" and the "Would-be Fair Sex," for mutual protection in the year of 1916. Now all of these fellows had girls, or at least, they thought that they had, and did not wish to be caught by a "local," therefore, the protective organization.

It is our thorough belief and motto, in the following sentiments expressed in the few words:

"The rights of Man untrampled by the women, now or never."

It was with this purpose in mind that a very stringent constitution and very strict by-laws were drawn-up, which, all members have been compelled to obey strictly to the letter. This is a strictly socialistic order because all the following members are offers:

J. Claude Law, '17.
D. Dana Grover, '18.
W. Gladstone Merrells, '16.
C. Hank Allen, '17.
V. Leslie Roberts, Ac. '16.

Y. M. C. A. Lecture Course

NEVER in the history of Wesleyan College has there been a better series of entertainments rendered than the Redpath Bureau has given us this year. Every number has been immensely interesting and in several cases very instructive. The attendance has been large.

Great credit must be given to the honorable Thomas Zumbrunnen for his fine management of the season. The season has not only been a financial success in itself but by the end of the year it is most probable that the entire old debt will have been entirely swept away. Also credit must be given to the entire membership of the committee. Each member labored faithfully and gave his best to the work.

Nicodemus

Being the adventures of a certain orphan.

PAULUS and I were returning to our rooms thru the wind swept streets, discussing transmigration of soul. Paulus is a philosopher and I spend my days in investigating the katabolism of cats. A faint whimper interrupted our argument. We looked up in time to cry to the little waif not to jump, but we could not stop him.

"The sin of suicide will fall upon the selfish society that refuses him." said Paulus.

But the little fellow was no suicide. He struggled to his feet and tried to get away from us but he was too much hurt and too ill to run. We took him home and offered him milk but he would not drink, tho starved to emaciation. We did not know what to do, never having had any experiences with that sect known as suffragettes, who go on hunger strikes. We also tried to find out his name but had to compromise on calling him Nicodemus because he "came to us by night."

Tho very small Nic showed unmistakable signs of breeding for a cat. He was very young, being only three inches long, but we began to give him an education well befitting his evident station in life. In fact we were fondly anticipating his future when he should be famed as a mouser, smelling a rat by the latest inductive and deductive methods, as taught by the Rising Sun Detective Agency in twelve correspondence lessons, when alas! avarice o'ertook us and zounds! we fell. A friend and esteemed fellow Biologist (his hated name we now call Moloch) offered to exchange for Nic. a cat at least five inches long. He pointed out that a Philosopher and a Biologist, wedded only to their sciences, were no fit persons to undertake the bringing-up of an infant that could not eat yet. But this argument did not have such an effect upon us as the two inches extra of cat did. After coarse parly and bickering we parted with Nicodemus, receiving an animal named Wesleyan in exchange.

Alternative courses, now lay before us. We could carry out our first purpose with the second cat, or we could continue stock trading, which seemed to be a prospering business, and by steadily enlarging the captial stock as in the first instance, ultimately, in some good deal, trade for a Ford.

Like the true scholar that he is, my friend settled the difficulty by suggesting that we sacrifice Wesleyan on the altar of science, and, in the cessation of his humble existence, try to make possible a more abundant life for the many. You may be sure this fell in with my altruistic aspirations.

But Wesleyan had a different answer for it. Because of his innate crudity he could never get beyond personalties, and held most stubbornly to the idea that he was personally involved. One would think that he had a feeling of ownership for every one of his lives. Therefore, when the Professor of Biology, whom Wesleyan was visiting during the Holidays, accidently stepped on his head, the cat refused to be persuaded that the act of violence did not arise from anticat feeling. He wiped the dust of that pedagogical atmosphere from his furry tootsies.

The following poster completes the tail which is necessary to every complete cat.

Domestic Science Story

"MARY," came the clear, resounind voice from the young girl who was coming toward the house of Mr. Deans. "They have promised at home and I am going to Wesleyan next year."

"Really Virginia!" was the answer that went back from the girl seated on the porch. "Come and tell me about it, what all you are going to take and everything."

"To begin with dear, I am going to take Domestic Science and"—

"Oh! I want to go to a real Domestic Science school. There would be ever so much more fun in it," said Mary.

"Well! so you want to go to school for fun," came the scornful reply from the companion.

"Don't be cross dear, come! tell me, what do you know about the school?

"I will tell you now if you will promise to keep perfectly quiet until I finish. Do you promise?"

"Yes."

"Uncle Bob just came home from there and he says the town is just fine. There the school offers its Domestic Science course along with all the other courses of music, art, degrees and all; and not only that but you get credit on your college work for it. But the domestic science department in itself is not to be excelled, so he told mother and father; the wood work and walls are all done in white. In the dining room they have china closets full of white china with gold bands around the edges, and in the drawers there is silver and linen. Then too they have beautiful oak tables, those extension kind, with nicely polished oak chairs to match.

The kitchen is perfect. Individual lockers right by your table, and each person has a separate stove and cooking utensils."

"Uncle Bob told me that last week the girls gave a big dinner for all the basket ball men, and they had the best eats; chicken, parker house rolls and everything that goes with a good dinner.

Wouldn't that be fun? You know in a regular Domestic Science school you couldn't do that because there wouldn't be any boys.

"Well, I'm———"

"Sh--h--h. Don't you remember your promise? I may go to summer school there this year because a course in Domestic Science is offered and I am just crazy to get started. This year is the first year the course has been offered and it was given mostly to the normal students, but next fall the whole full course is to be offered and———"

"I am going to speak if I want to Virginia I will just bust" chimed Mary. "I am going to West Virginia Wesleyan too."

Song

Words by PETER JAMES MURDOCK

Tune—"A Perfect Day"

As we come to the end of our college days,
As we sit alone with our tho'ts,
And the hours rush in on commencement day
With the joy the sheepskin brought;
Do you think that is all of our college days
And all we keep in our minds?—
Sad—the years roll fast in old Wesleyan
And the long known friends must part.

Well, this is the end of our college days
Near the end of our journey thru—
But it leaves a tho't that is big and strong,
With the hope of a friendship true,
For memory has painted these college days,
With colors that never fade,—
And we think of the halls in old Wesleyan,
And the hosts of the friends we've made.

Yesterday, Today and Tomorrow

ESTERDAY, if a man desired to visit a friend or neighbor, whether he lived one mile, five miles, or a hundred miles, he had to walk. It was not long, however, until he found that he could save his own legs by using those of another animal, so he jumped on a horse. Later he became more unselfish, and wished to take his family along, so the buggy and the coach met this demand. He was not satisfied with such slow travel—for long. Today he travels on trains, in automobiles, and even in air ships. Tomorrow even these will not suffice. So man will grow wings and soar along through the air at his own will.

Yesterday if a man wanted to read he sat down with one of Dicken's works or Scott's, and sometimes even "Les Miserables." Today when the world is moving so rapidly, such extravagance of time is unpardonable, so he reads the short-story. Kipling, Monpassant, O'Henry and others suplpy his needs. This is indeed a great gain, for it can be read at one sitting. The short-story must have a single predominating incident, a single predominating character, unity, plot, interest and imagination. Unless it has all of these it is not short-story. Tomorrow we predict even a shortnning of the short story. There will be no longer time for reading, so our literature will be after this fashion:

A ROMANCE

Pretty Maiden
Handsome Boy
Just a Kiss
Lover's Joy

All goes great
Till one night
Comes in late
Love takes a flight.

Hasty He Can't Delay
Willing She Married They

Reno then,
Only course
Sad maiden
Gets divorce

TRAGEDY WILL BE THUS:

Boy, gun
Joy, fun
Gun bus
Boy dus

These two meet all of the requirements of a short-story, so why waste time reading long-drawn out ones. Let us hope for some other great production such as these in the near future.

Say! It's exam time of the year,
Commencement's at the door,
And many "studes" are thinking now
Who never thought before.

THE FRESHMAN CHEMIST

Under a spreading line of talk,
The Freshman chemist stands;
The chap a "Mighty" flunk is he,
With white and trembling hands,
And the drawings of his notebook stuff
Are wrong as Villa's bands.

The Wesleyan Megaphone

Published monthly if the weather permits. Otherwise weakly.

A crude, calloused, caustic, cold-blooded, confidential, collaboration of the constitutionally crazy acts of the mystic curiosities who make this odiferous assortment of unmitigated piffle possible. Or, in other words, we are bringing before you at stupendous cost from unbelievable sources the most glittering galaxy of fantastically fascinating features ever read of in the cannibals of history. It is a marvelous category of the weirdest lads and lassies ever conglomerated by "Pen or Sword."

APOLOGIA

Don't get sore—If you have your feelings hurt try Mentholatum or Arnica. Again you should look in the mirror and think what we might have said about you.

Remember you have to be very popular to get bawled out and thus be placed in this end of this Almanac.

All suits of slander should be brought in the name of the Homiletic Association. The Annual has no funds.

Some of the jokes in this department have no point to them. We print them because we thought some of the professors would enjoy them.

Moral:—Salve everybody if you want to be a success.

EDITORIALS

Kindly mail all slander to the editor.

Every paper and magazine should have a policy. We wish to state that "The Megaphone" is not only up with the times but slightly ahead. We have two: one, accident; the other, life. So we squeeze the lemon with gusto, and let the juice fly where it may.

Going to college is just like sliding down the back cellar door, and the professors are the splinters. Lots of fun until you get stuck.

We hope that as many as can, of our subscribers, will pay their subscriptions. Our socks is getting out at the heels and we need a new pair of galluses. Call around any time.

We are looking forward to the commencement recitals with smoked specs. All are urged to attend. Bring your smelling salts.

We have been reliably informed that the Board of Trustees of the college has urgently requested the Hall girls to quit swiping spoons from the table. They cost nine cents per hundred.

The band has the largest room in schoolroom for improvement.

We were asked to print the actual truth about some of the Seniors in their write-ups. We couldn't—the girls read them, too.

The editor offers the following advice for the benefit of the new students: Laugh heartily at all the jokes of your professors. Practice will soon make this easy. Then write all of your letters during lectures. Profs. always approve of the man who takes copious notes. Also it helps out mightily with your correspondence. Moreover, wear your coat to all classes. This is a subtle compliment to your professor, just as evening clothes when dining out. Finally, always carry a textbook or two to class if you can find them.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

The Editor-in-Chief and the Business Manager of the '17 Murmurmontis invite the Wesleyan Faculty and the entire student body to be the guests of said Management at "The Greenbrier," White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., during the summer vacation of '16. The Greenbrier is to become the property of the above named management. Said famed summer resort will be opened immediately after the sale of the Year Book.

TO ALL WHO PLAN REVENGE ON THE "MEGAPHONE" EDITOR.—We will not leave Buckhannon immediately after publication as former editors have done, but will hold a reception in the Megaphone Office for all who wish to call. Said reception will consist of a number of specimens of "Harvey's Militia" properly aimed; 22-inch smooth bore butcher knives; sharp, two-edged repeating rifles well loaded and fired; soft, soothing, syncopated drops of cynanide of potassium; five gallons nitro-glycerine carefully exploded and H2S04 pistols fired with ease and elegance. Refreshments will be served after the reception in the Editor's Office, consisting of ground glass in Six's condensed Milk; hot carbolic acid with wafers; limburger pie a la copperas, and Grandpa's Wonder soap with gunpowder dressing. All those surviving will be challenged to a duel with pen-knives at fifty feet.

Jim Heavner will uphold the affirmative of "White is Black" in a dual debate tomorrow night in the College auditorium. A negative debater has not yet been chosen. It is rumored that Heavner has debated this question on previous occasions.

FOREWORD

We Believe that this is a punk college; that the majority of the professors are moss-grown fossils; that the brewery interest controls the Y. M. C. A.; that the Murmurmontis as now edited is a positive menace; that no languages nor mathematics should be required in the College curriculum; that Prof. Deck should be given a gold medal for his ease and graceful pose in class; that the hope of Wesleyan College lies in the Class of 1919! ! !

A STORY WITH A MORAL

Once upon a time I was a nice child, but since coming to Wesleyan I put away childish things and I have lived happily ever after.

I Didn't Raise My Boy to Be A Flunker

Ten Thousand students with a "D" have gone
Who may never return again;
Ten Thousand mothers' hearts must break
For the flunks who strived in vain.
Let each mother counsel in the years to be
I'll break some bones if you should draw a "D."

CHORUS

I didn't raise my boy to be a flunker;
I brought him up to be my pride and glee.
Who dares to say he could be any punker
Must bear in mind the lowest grade's a "D."
Let students all work harder in the future;
It's time to "can" the "D" and grab an "A."
There'd be no flunks today
If mothers all would say;
I didn't raise my boy to be a flunker.

RESSEGER'S ANTI-WET BILL GETS BY OUR LEGISLATORS WITHOUT A DISSENTING VOTE

(Goldbloom Press Service)

Washington. Feb. 12–The closing day of Congress was marked by the usual fond "so long old Tops" which are usually in order at such times. Strange but true, there was something done by the Solons on the eve of their departure from the Capitol City. The last bill to be brought up for discussion in the Senate Chamber was concerning the anti-liquor question and was labeled "Senator Resseger's Anti-Wet measure." When the bill was read, Sen. Resseger was given the floor by Vice Pres. Bill Dunn and delivered one of the greatest speeches that had ever been given in the legislative halls of Washington. At three o'clock this afternoon a vote was taken on the measure and it was passed unanimously. The bill was rushed to the Representatives, who under the leadership of Hon. Ernest Swan, of Pittsburg, Pa., passed it with no opposition.

The Junior boys are hard to beat and gee, I hate the time for them to go.

My lover is a Junior and when his love he speaks

"THE GIRL"

There are girls in this world who are pretty,
    There are girls in this world who are sweet,
There are girls who are loyal, true, healthy,
    And some who are painfully neat.

But the girls that the world thinks the most of,
    The one on whom all may depend,
Is the girl touched by all of these blessings,
    Who makes of the world a good friend.

Look for her cheer as you go on your way;
    It will help you to reach greater height.
Perhaps in your midst is that very same girl—
    She's the genuine, typical, Wesleyanite.

IN THE RECORDER'S COURT

Either the municipal officers are failing to perform their duties or else there are a great many harmful characters loose in College for more arrests were made this week than usual. I, as Mayor, appeal to the officers to help put down the crime now prevalent. The following arrests were made during the last week ending March 4:

1—Thurman, for rushing.
2—Curtis, for breaking dining room speed limit at Track House.

"OWED" TO FRESHMEN GIRLS

Fickle, fickle, Freshmen girls,
How you fool the Senior squirrels;
Stuck above the rest so sly,
Like you were last year at high.
Senior's ticket all year round,
Bright eyes hold him spellbound;
Then you wear a Junior's pin,
Fickle, fickle, what a sin!
Eat a Senior's candy down,
Tell him he's the best in town;
Sunday with a Soph you flirt,
Fickle, fickle, little skirt.
Tell the Senior he's a dear,
From September thru the year;
Then you turn your Senior loose,
Fickle, fickle, what's the use?

Announcement—The Wesleyan College Club will give a dance in the beautifully decorated rooms of Depot St. garage next Monday eve.

"BEAU-NOT" CLUB

A bevy of charming young ladies met upon one snowy evening of last winter term for the purpose of organizing themselves into a club. The name unanimously chosen was the "Beau-Not" Club. The purpose, motto, and password are all embodied in its name. Whether this is a literary or social club is left for those interested to guess. Only a select few are entitled to membership. Members: Sadie Rexroad, Lota Ford, Ruth Webb, Virginia Staunton, Cora Maxwell and Grace Wyman (Faculty adviser). Many applicants for membership in this Club are being refused daily.

Announcement—Gossip party in Reading Room at 3:30 next Tues. Come and learn your family history.

DEPARTMENT OF DOMESTIC SCIENCE

A new department has recently been added to the College curriculum. It is Domestic Science. Accessories consisting of skillets, tin cups, dish rags and soup bowls are scattered over a table down in the basement of College Hall. Here we see cooking, serving, dish-washing and mopping up. Some very important rules and hints follow:

ETIQUETTE RULES

Learn how to entertain an olive before entering society.

Etiquette experts cannot agree on asparagus, so let somebody else lead off and you follow "suit."

Never blow on your soup to cool it. Fan it with your hat.

Under no circumstances, mix beer with your watermelon.

Always tip your hat when speaking to a lady, unless she is a maid—then tip her.

In eating soup don't try to make more noise than your neighbor. You'll do that without trying.

When the sparkling wine is set before you, don't drink more than six glasses. Remember where you are.

Don't put your napkin under your chin. Wear a soup-colored shirt.

Never detour while telling an after-dinner story. You might lose your way and go around in a circle.

Always withdraw in a crowd so your name won't be connected with a missing hat or wrap.

In dancing, don't tread on your partner's toe—unless she is wearing black shoes.

Photographs should not be placed on the piano. The other fellow might call unexpectedly.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

If bothered with mosquitoes, move North.

Children should not play the piano with a hatchet.

Fly paper on a chair shows great stick-to-you-ive-ness.

If your husband makes love to the cook—fire the husband. Husbands are easy to get.

Love thy neighbor as thyself—if she is not married.

Silence is golden. Get rich quick!

Don't spend five cents car fare to buy a dollar article for ninety-eight cents.

If you get bored with housekeeping, you can get board.

Never make biscuits that will hang heavy on one's conscience.

To have a good complexion, soak your face in buttermilk or cream over night.

CAN YOU IMAGINE IN 1930

Peg Anderson, an organizer of Old Maid's Homes?
Hubert Howard, a pugilist?
Lillian Trieber, a farmer's wife?
Shirley Burgess, Dean of Women at Wesleyan?
Red Deem, in grand opera?
Lou Callison, a spinster by choice?
John Withers, an undertaker?
Chauncey Bailey, a dancing master?
Cecil Blake, a missionary?
Miss Lobdell, a social butterfly?
Clyde McCamon, president of W. V. W. C.?
Miss Wyman, married?
Miss Butler, still teaching gym?
Glada Miller, matron of an orphan's home?

—IF —

What would we think if we should see Dean Haught walking on the grass,
Or Prof. Ulrich opening with prayer his class;
Or Prexy in the New Valley a playin' poker
And betting on West Virginia like a joker;
Or Prof. Aspinall without a joke
Or Prof. Helwig begin to smoke
Or see our sedate Miss Wyman prancing
According to the modern dancing .
What would you think if we should hear
Prof. White some time say
"I don't think we should work today,"
And hear Prof. Casto boldly debonair
Calmly and deliberately swear;
Or hear Prof. Ryland say,
"There'll be no exam. today."
These things I'll see and so will you
When all "warm places" are cold thru and thru.

ACKNOWLEDGMENT

You'd scarcely expect students of our ages
To write an annual as would the sages;
So if we have chanced to fall below
Nineteen sixteen and those before,
Cast not on us a critic's eye,
Forget our failures bye and bye,
For this you've doubtless heard before;
Great writers from their failures grow.

"The Girl Who Wouldn't"

Eleanor was attractive.

She was always invited to parties, balls, and the theaters.

She had so much fun that she could not take the time to finish her high school course.

She became a little older and began to think of her future—not seriously and only occasionally.

Some wage-earning friends advised her to learn something that might serve her in the hour of adversity, should such an hour come.

They suggested stenography, but Eleanor would not give up her fun.

Adversity's cloud did hover by and by, and at thirty-five Eleanor is a blondined waitress.

Fortunately, for every Eleanor there are a dozen substantial Marys and Marthas who learn something at the time when learning is possible—something that will carry them over the hard places in life—something that will make them independent, self supporting, and economically free.

Our shorthand school is sending such girls out into the business world every day.

These girls take good places in good offices where they maintain their self-respect and earn good salaries.

What we can do for ambitious young women is thoroughly explained in our interesting catalog which is mailed free.

Send for it. Don't be "The Girl Who Wouldn't."

SAFE DEPOSIT BOXES FOR RENT

Dear Readers, we wish to call your attention to the most astonishing fact. If you turn to page 223, you will behold one of the most remarkable pictures in captivity. The '17 class has been working for three years to obtain such a picture and was only able to do so at the very last minute, when the entire dummy was ready for the press. The editor thought the picture so wonderful that he was willing to reconstruct his dummy so as to make room for that wonderful production. The picture is only a small one but is priceless. In years to come it will be worth piles of money. "Hank" Allen for once in his three years at Wesleyan was caught in a hurry and the wonderfulness of such a picture is to be prized more highly than its weight in gold. We thot it best to show you the picture as well as tell you about it for fear that your imaginative, creative, conceptive, or inventive powers would not be comprehensive enough to allow you a clear, pure, bright, unclouded, distinct, disentangled, or transparent knowledge of the same without the correct reproduction before you.

It is our intention to portray to you all remarkable featurs that ever take place in Wesleyan. One more unusual, rare, striking, and extraordinary event, which took place in the main building, is the fact that 'Stubby' neglected to put Discuss Fully before all his test questions. Now we think that the prof. should be slapped on the wrist (take care not to break his watch) and severely reprimanded. No student that has a class to the said aforementioned prof. had anything to do with writing this article.

After the performance of strict observance we arrived at the logical and reasonable conclusion that the difficulty with too many of the college students is that they expect the return of an ocean liner when they have not sent out as much as a row boat.

Every man desires to be a general in his own home. Think of the many times he braces up to the little to be wifey and says what he is going to do and what a general he will make in their little sunshine parlor. When they are living in their little two by two apartments the 'little to be wifey' finds her husband a general all right—a general nuisance.

One of the latest development of science is the advocating of better things for babies. One of the medical journals gives a long lists of do's and don'ts. One is—if a baby does not thrive on fresh milk, boil it. Poor baby!

From the time one first sees daylight, until the time when he ceases to see he is constantly meeting obstacles. And life has so many of them, it is a wonder to some of us how the rest of us get by.

Please tell us what kind of a nut a guy is that drinks grape juice. A grape nut.

The little lamb that Mary had
Would close behind her go
But few adopted Mary's fad
Most damsels want an auto.

"Mrs. Revolution should be happy."
"Why so?"
"Because she has so many daughters and in every town she can visit one of them."

A model school teacher was trying to develop the reasoning and imaginative powers of one of her pupils.
"Johnny, what does b-e-d spell?"
"Teacher, I dunno."
"Well, what do you sleep in?"
Johnny after much thought, "Teacher, I have it now. It spells shirt."

"Mr. Kellar, what are you going to do with those hinges?"
"Why, prep, I am going to swing the gait of a horse on them."

Women can do most things that men can do, it is true. But if you ask most husbands about it, they will tell you of one thing. That the fair sex cannot hang all their clothes on one nail.

This joke has been pulled in every year book yet published, but still you bite.

If you give your baby a bottle be careful that it does not fall out of the cradle and break its neck. No! the bottle.

MAY DAY

FAREWELL

To those who have read this book,
We thank for patience and time,
And may you not regret, na,
Not even a single line.

To you we wish happiness
And may it be without a sigh
For friends we are and have been,
Tho now we must say good-bye.
